Portal Search Engine

The power and function of Google search through agency Web sites

An increasing demand

As more people become regular users of the Internet, a significant draw is its search capability. But truly effective search does not come easily or cheaply. Rather, it is a complex, highly sophisticated and data-intensive function.

A popular, powerful option

To meet this need, the Arizona @ Your Service portal (AZ.GOV) and the Portal team, have delivered an option of free search powered by Google. Widely acknowledged as among the best search engines, this solution delivers Google's proven power and flexibility to Arizona agencies at no cost.

The results

This teaming enables agencies to add the Portal Search Engine form to their Web site and deliver search results pages that convey the look and feel of the Arizona Portal. Agencies can even customize the main Portal search page when accessed from an agency site, so viewers see the agency home page and/or logo.

Some additional details

Currently, 70 Arizona agencies are using the Google-powered Portal Search Engine. And individual agencies have the option of creating Google subcollections so searches can be restricted to only those sites that are part of that subcollection.
